

HURRICA V - QUEEN OF CLASSICS

'Hurrica V' is a magnificent example of Australian yachting history kept in impeccable condition.

Designed by Charles Nicholson of the famed C&N design house and born in the glamour of the Edwardian era of March 1924 her elegant hull has graceful lines now rarely drawn - a long continuous keel with a well-proportioned form, and is the founding of a capable and sea-kindly yacht that is now easy to sail thanks to modern systems.

While respecting her history and past, Hurrica V has been restored without any expense or nook of the boat spared by premier yacht builders Norman R Wrights & Sons of ...
